White Sox Still Have WORLD'S SERIES Outside Chance to Win

If Rain Has Washed the Mud From Their Batting Eyes They May Get Started and Pound Reds Into Submission-One Earned Run.

BY GRANTLAND RICE.

CHICAGO, HL, Oct. 6 .- If the rain which fell Sunday and wiped tway the dust on the ball field will also erase the dust which has gathtred in White Sox batting eyes they may still have a chance to emerge rom the somber grotto which now surrounds their fading hope. Sunlay's rainy rest gives Kid Gleason's pitching staff a tidy breathing spell and practically insures fine pitching for his next three starts. He will mve Claude Williams ready and rested for Monday. Dick Kerr poised and primed for Tuesday, and Eddle Cicotte yearning for revenge on Vednesday, all with a suitable period of repose for their left and right These three pitchers in their last three starts have held the leds to 12 blows, an average of only four to the afternoon. But even my and gaudy pitching isn't going to matter very much unless the onceamed Sox attack can break its way through the Red defense, which o far has held the Sox struggling vainly in the outer meshes of the sarbed wire entanglements. There have been many varied and subtle easons offered for the White Sox disaster up to date, but the main eason is as clear as a rugged mountain peak outlined against an au-in their four starts the Sax have outplayed through the greater part of tage of one-fourth of one run to each intest. With this sordid and impressing ave fact confronting you, why look eper for miner sidelights that mean ut little? When a half club can only utilitie? When a half club can only trin one run every fourth game it has been as much chance of winning as the best largewer replacements had of division and boaton in the gensen's dash for the flag.

The series is fairly sure to go to eight the stress and the series is fairly sure to go to eight the series of the series is fairly sure to go to eight ng the Pirst division out of Cheppy just i year ago today. The Reds have rolled proteinless in the four games, where he sox have gathered six, and of those ix precisely five were pure and unconaminated gifts. Reds Have the Call.

It requires no world-besting brain to aggest that the Reds now have the full. They only need the next two tames, and they have Reuther, Ring, allee, Eller and Fisher in fine condition to handle the assignment.

These have been quite sufficient to add the Sox attack in check so far, but ou can never tell when a sligging out it such as the Sox have always been vill suddenly wheel and begin rapping he bell into safe territory. Before the first started it was mainly a quession as to whether Kid Gleason's pitching, staff could stand the test. No-one, retted over the ability of Eddie Colins, Joe Jackson, Hap Feisch, Buck Weaver, etc. to step forth and pommel few runs across. But since the series pensed the dope has flopped, one of the est things the dope does when the cage foor is opened, and it is allowed to sam at will. It is no longer a question of Sox pitching, but of Sox batting, for he indications now are that Williams, ferr and Clectte will turn in their share of the stuff through the rest of the eries.

In chiding the Sox for their inability in chiding the Sox for their inability of break through, it is just as well not a overlook the rare praise due the sed defense for its fine pitching and its tharp support from the field. The Sox stack hasn't gotten started for the imple reason that Red pitchers and ted fielders have raced to championship neights and have offered far greater resistance than quite a number ever gave hem credit for possessing. Betther ting and Sallee held the Sox without in earned rue, while Ray Fisher only sermitted one untainted tally. Sallee was hit harder than any of his mates, but the ancient sheriff has a way of sing in the nick of time to suppress a un. He will have a harder time on his axt appearance despite the rest he has lrawn. Those who are supporting the lox still have this hunch to work on.

is desperate as many seem to figure it. With Williams, Kerr and Cicotte primed hey have an excellent chance of bagging two of the next three games. This will leave the Reds leading by a margin of 4 to 3. If they should lose then shat a terrific squawk there would be from Red rooters over the extension of he series from seven to hine games, for will hear it from California to Florda and the rising will break in upon the jazz melody of Breadway and the autumn music of the Oregon pines. The extension of the series to nine games now favors the Sox, which shows again hat you can never tell what the future

Eddie Cicotte is now perhaps won-dering why in the Sam Hill it didn't rain Saturday. His rout would at least have been delayed a day.

With the series standing 3 and 1 for the Reds, the White Sox have only to win four out of the ensuing five con-tests. And with Reuther, Sailee, Fisher, Eller and Ring awaiting a chance to tear a hole in the Sox, it is hardly an Lefty Williams is Kid Gleason's next oftching selection, and unless the plats wings for him, the ex-Vol portsider should be able to chalk up a victory.

Dickie Kerr is still among those present around the White Sox dugout and Red siuggers are getting all base hits possible before the Lilliputian goes in on Tuesday. Dickie has made up another bucket of whitewash with which to souse the Reds.

Cincinnati fans are not counting their chickens until they hatch. They have seen the Reds skid too many times after getting away to a flying start, and will not believe they are world's champlons until they deposit the bacon on Cincinnati's doorstep.

Eddie Collins is the greatest money player in baseball. By his fallure to hit the ball in the first four games, he is about to make $6,000 for each of the Cincinnati Reds.

After the Monday game has been unreled the two clubs will return to Cincinnati, where they will take up the struggle. Rediand bugs are bordering on a state of complete collapse, so tremendous has been the suspension of the past four afternoons.

Wilfiams, Cicotte and Kerr—and the greatest of these is Kerr.

The Chicago White Sox were picked to win the series before it started. The Clacinnati Reds have been picking them ever since it started.

Finals of National Wowan's Finals of National Wowan's Championship by Wide But as long as there is a game remaining for the Reds to win before copping the series, there's hope.

The "I-Told-You-So" brigade is out in full glory. It is difficult to uncover a man who picked the White Sox to win the series, now that the Reds have a two-game lead. They all had it figured to a gnat's mustache that the Reds couldn't be beaten. Oct. 6.—Miss Alexa Stirling, of Atlanta, defended her title or national golf champion of the United States Saturday when she walked away from the veteran Mrs. W. A. Gayin,—of New York, 6-5. In the finals of the national women's Miss Sterling displayed her complete superiority in every one but one of the thirteen holes played. She lost the eighth when Mrs. Gavin scored a fine three, but she was out in 41 against a 44 for Mrs. Gavin. This is the second time during the week that the Southnerer has made the trip in that score. But for the fact that she missed a 3-foot putt on the seventh green she would have set us a new figure for women players for the local course.

Mrs. Gavin was two down at the turn and promptly went to pieces. From this point on she was absolutely helpless against the brilliant play of her young opponent.

Jupiter Pluvius did more than Kld Gleason could do Sunday. He tamed the Reds and prevented them from winning. The rain is expected to prove beneficial to the Sox, as they were in utter retreat and confusion, and the day's rest gave Manager Gleason an opportunity to gather his scattered forces and line up again ready to fight for the big end of the money.

Kerr is one of the most powerful little men in the game. He is short in stature but highly developed in physique with deep chest, sturdy legs and an iron arm.

For that matter one of the greatest right-handers in the Southern league was Gordon Hickman, who weighed for the big end of the money.

How can a player lose when he is getting $4,000?

Manager Kid Gleason says his club goes best when coming from behind. Figuring it from that basis, the bally Sox should get up a hot box in the next three games.

TOLEDO, O. Oct. 6.—The Toledo basebadl club of the American association is about to change hands. Roger Bresnahan's $15,000 stock has been put upon the market and the stockholders at the next meeting to be held soon will elect a president in Bresnahan's place, they say.

Bresnahan-came here four years ago from the Chicago national league club and has had a tailender in the American association race three of those four years. It is understood that John Ganzel, of Kansas City, would purchase the stock if he can come to terms. Jimmy Ring, who stood the Sox on their beans Saturday, formerly pitched for the Chattanooga Lookouts, but since going to Cincinnati evidently overcame the handicap.

The White Sex wrecking crew-Joe Jackson, Happy Felsch, Eddie Collins and Buck Weaver-are still unable to massage the ball as in days of yore, and are much overdue to begin pounding the clusive pellet to all corners of Comiskey

There's a silver lining to every cloud. The Sox will get something like four thousand cart wheels even if they lose the series, which is about as silvery a Well, he has shown up. We've been watching for him for some time—the guy who says the big series is "fixed." This wise egg says that it is all framed up for the two clubs to play the limit of games so the magnates can get the money. He was referred to 1914, when the Boston Braves won four straights and finished the series. That shut him up.

Eddie Ricotte is a dead one and is alsolutely through, according to the wise baseball experts of the East. These same wise ones are the birds who said Dick Kerr would never amount to anything as a pitcher in the majors. Cicotte could only win 25 games out of 36 starts this season against such clubs as Detroit, Cleveland, Boston and New York.

Poor old Eddie!

Manager Kid Gleason is still trying to reassure hinnself. Get an earful. "It's the best team that ever went into a world's series, but it isn't playing the hasehall that won the league pennant, iden't know what's the matter, players don't know what's the matter, but the team has not shown itself thus far.

HOD ELLER IN ACTION.

Kid Gleason can thank his predecessor as manager of the White Sox if young Hod Eller, of the Cinci Reds, trounces the Windy City team a game or so in the world series. For Clarence had a chance to glom onto Mr. Hed and passed him up. Eller was given a trial by the White Sox under Rowland in 1916, being obtained from the Moline club. Rowland figured he'd never make a star and turned him back.

The most notable feat of the current attraction is the fact that neither the Sox nor the Rods are breaking out with a hitting rash. The famed attack of the American league champs has been reduced to a whisper and Williams. Kerr and even Cleatte have stood the Rods upon their well-known beans. At the same time you probably have noticed who collected the runs.

Red Pitching Slowly Choking Sox to Death

Great Moundwork of Ruether, Sallee and Ring Proves Too Much-Chicagoans Have Been Helpless With the Mace.

BY GRANTIAND RICE.

.CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 6 .- The groan of the South Side fan is minthe vivisected pig just across the way in a vast medley of woe. The dismal chorus, a veritable threnody of doom, is rising to the high heavens, but out of it all there is still the ringing echo of an immortal refrair which Hughey Keough sang in behalf of the old White Sox back in another and the refrair angular this. "The Hell of in another age. And the refrain again is simply this: "The Hell of It is They Ain't Hittin'." Herein you have the complete story of three Red triumphs out of four starts, for Jimmy Ring resumed again Saturday where Reuther and Sallee left off, beating Eddie Cicotte by the score of 2 to 0 with a pitching exhibition that rivaled Dick Kerr's sensational work of the day before.

was the main factor that stopped such eminent sons of swat as Collins, Weaver, Jackson and Felsch.
Cicotte deserved a better fate upon his return, but after all as Eddie tallies up his diagnosis of the dope he will find no one but himself to blame. For four innings he and Ring travelled side by side in a pitching duel of rare merit. Ring had permitted one fuke blow up to this point while Eddie had permitted but two hits. Starting the fifth Cicotte
